

Scranton Fires Blast at Barry

Governor Happy With Tour Results

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — "We're really rounding up the delegates," Gov. William W. Scranton said today as he arrived in his state capital after his first campaign tour in quest of the Republican presidential nomination.

He told a handful of well-wishers at the Harrisburg-York State Airport in the early morning hours that he felt his 11th-hour campaign for the nomination was "ripening beautifully."

The governor and his wife, Mary, then drove 25 miles to the executive mansion at Indianopolis, Pa., where they plan to spend much of the day catching up on sleep.

Scranton also will meet with his aides to map strategy for the remaining three weeks of the campaign prior to the Republican National Convention.

Scranton, in St. Louis Wednesday, accused Sen. Barry Goldwater of lacking the courage to face him in a television debate and then retracted the statement hours later in Denver.

The attack was the Pennsylvania governor's sharpest ever on a political opponent.

Scranton set a precedent in his own style of political campaigning at St. Louis when he said Goldwater "lacks the courage to face people." The question came up when Scranton was asked to comment on Goldwater's refusal to debate him on television.

Scranton said Goldwater had insulated himself from the public by refusing to hold news conferences and using only prepared material in his addresses. "I don't consider that to be the right type of candidate to have in America," the governor told newsmen.

A few hours later Scranton told a Denver news conference that his use of the word "courage" in that earlier press conference "was an ill-advised use of the word."

He said he believed Goldwater "has personal courage and nobody denies that. I don't." Scranton added: "But since the New Hampshire campaign he has been guarded and hemmed in by the politicians around him."

The reason, said Scranton, is because the American people would "become even more disenchanted by what are his real views." Despite the criticism, Scranton said he would support Goldwater for the presidency if the senator is nominated. He said any Republican would be better than President Johnson.

The governor left Denver Wednesday night after 72 hours of delegate raiding in states generally counted as leaning toward "Goldwater."

Scranton headed back to Harrisburg for a day of catch-up work on state business left by adjournment of the legislature and further planning for his presidential nomination bid.

The legislative adjournment led Scranton to cancel a foray into Utah to meet with delegates of that state.

In some 4,000 miles of flying that began Monday morning in Scranton, Pa., the governor met with delegates and GOP leaders in Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri and Colorado, as well as in his home state.

Campaign aides said the governor's flying trip was a success and indicated Scranton could expect great second-ballot strength.

Air Shaft 'Home' for Yale Student

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Allan Kornfeld made his niche at Yale by living in it.

His niche was a ventilation shaft where he set up house-keeping seven months ago.

"It was a little cold," admitted the Tulsa, Okla., student after leaving his rent-free quarters for good. "In the winter I used an electric blanket."

Kornfeld received his bachelor's degree last June but felt he needed another year of study before entering medical school.

Housing was available in New Haven but rent money wasn't. Kornfeld had attended Yale on a four-year scholarship which was terminated on graduation day.

The 6-foot-3 Oklahoma decided to try living in the attic of Silliman College, one of Yale's 12 residential colleges.

He soon began to attract the attention of campus police. Kornfeld then tried a brick passageway that feeds air into the college's squash courts.

To disguise the entrance, he covered a piece of plywood with brick wallpaper and placed it over the opening. Only a few close friends knew of the hide-away.

As far as university officials knew, special student Kornfeld was living at the off-campus address he gave them. Tuition fees covered his meals in college dining halls.

Inside his cubbyhole, Kornfeld had a mattress, a bureau, a clock and a radio.

Liberation day came with the end of the school year. Kornfeld came out of the shaft and announced what he had done.

At Yale, where legend abounds, the name Kornfeld seems assured of immortality.

Woman Held After Threatening LBJ

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Johnnie Mae Hackworth, 59, accused by the Secret Service of writing a threatening letter to President Johnson, has been committed to a government hospital for observation and examination.

Mrs. Hackworth was taken to the hospital in Lexington, Ky. in accordance with a court order. Lane Bertran, agent-in-charge of the Secret Service here said Wednesday.

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH

CINCINNATI (AP) — Michael W. Kearns, 19, Bevis, Ohio, was killed late Wednesday night in a three-car crash that injured five other youths and an adult. Hamilton County police said the crash occurred on a local road in Green Township west of Cincinnati.

Officers said Kearns tried to pass another car on the crest of a hill and collided head-on with a car driven by Edward Fiebler, 38, Cincinnati. The youth's car then bounced back into its original lane and was struck from the rear by the car it had been trying to pass.

The Associated Press delegate poll now puts Goldwater's delegate support at 677—more than enough for nomination, if they hold up through the first ballot at San Francisco.

After the respite at Harrisburg, Scranton plans to fly to Louisville, Ky., Friday afternoon, and from there to Boston, Mass., to keynote the Massachusetts Republican Convention Saturday.

Secret Service Agents Grab Man With 'Box' Near LBJ

CLEVELAND (AP) — The man with a box tucked under his arm looked suspicious to a secret service agent.

The man tried to walk up and shake hands with President

Johnson on a downtown Cleveland street Wednesday.

He didn't get to first base. Usually it's his job to keep other guys from getting to first base.

Let Minnesota Twins pitcher Gerry Arrigo tell what happened:

"I come to this corner with about five people standing on it and I see this man getting out of a car to come over and shake their hands. It was the President of the United States. 'Naturally, I want to shake his hand, too, so I walk up to him. I get right next to him when some guy grabs me by the arm. Backs me against a fence and wants to know who I am and what I got in the box. 'I tell him I'm a professional baseball player but he says he doesn't care what I do but what have I got in the box. 'So I tell him what I got in the box so he keeps hold of my arm and tells me if I want to shake the President's hand I got to put the box down. 'By this time the President has walked back to his car and is riding away. This guy lets go of my arm. Takes one more look at the box and runs after the car. 'What was in Arrigo's box? 'A lamp I picked up in my daughter's bedroom,' Arrigo said.

Soviets Modify Plan on Destroying Nuclear Bombers

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union indicated a move today to meet the American position on a proposed "bonfire" of nuclear bomber planes.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told the 17-nation disarmament conference a forthcoming new Kremlin plan will modify the Jan. 23 Soviet proposal calling for total destruction of all bombing planes.

The January proposal was rejected by the United States as impractical and unacceptable to the West. An American counterplan on March 19 called for destruction of 480 American B47s, matched by the destruction of 480 Soviet TU16s over a two-year period. The Soviets rejected the counterproposal.

Zorin hinted today his new proposal will take into account the American objections to scrapping all bombers.

"The Soviet delegation will present its views on how and in what order we think it most appropriate, taking into account opinions advanced by other delegates, to carry out the elimination of bomber aircraft," he said. "At present we would like only to state that the Soviet Union is going to occupy a flexible position in this matter."

American officials were intrigued by Zorin's use of the word flexible. Immediately after the morning conference session, U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster took Zorin aside in an unscheduled private talk lasting nearly an hour.

Decisions For the Voters

Republican party leaders who describe themselves as "moderates" claim they are pushing vigorously for the presidential nomination of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania to save their party from destruction.

They picture the "conservatism" of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and his views on the important issues of the day, both domestic and international, as a mortal threat to party harmony that must be eliminated if the GOP is to survive and the time-honored principles of Republicanism are to prevail.

This ostensibly is the motive behind the last-minute struggle of Gov. Scranton, now with the help of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, to deny Sen. Goldwater a nomination within his grasp.

THE FALLACY in this offensive is that the Eastern or "liberal" wing of the Republican party represents itself as "in the mainstream" of Republican thought, with nothing in "grass roots" support of the party "moderates" and "liberals" to substantiate that assumption.

As a matter of fact, "conservatives" have been denied much power in the Republican party for a quarter of a century or more. Their views have been scorned, their activities have been ridiculed and their candidates have been beset by commentators, columnists and the well-oiled devices of propaganda.

Now, with a nomination in sight for one whose candidacy they endorse with a fervor that has attracted new converts by the hundreds of thousands across the country, defeat at the national convention would engender a bitterness seldom experienced in intra-party squabbles.

Republican "conservatives are fighting for a clear-cut choice on issues in November.

The "liberal" wing appears almost hysterical in its fear that such a choice will be offered and that a chance to pass judgment on many of the policies of the Johnson administration will be given the nation's voters.

Who is squarely "in the mainstream" of Republican thought in this country? The nomination of which candidate offers the best chance to bind the wounds of disharmony and lead the party to a head-on, no-holds-barred clash with the Johnson philosophy of government?

Republican delegates will make their choice in July, but the wisdom of that choice and the fate of the Republican party will not be unveiled until November.

All Fouled Up

From a community standpoint, we feel as embarrassed as our city councilmen over the parking meter case.

We may "own" the meters legally, as Solicitor Thomas Coe has pointed out, but the moral obligation on a $12.842 bill remains, in our opinion. The dispute has run the gamut of court opinions and a time limit for the manufacturer to file an appeal.

The city can not pay for the meters since Common Pleas Judge Joel Sharp's decision upheld City Auditor Helen Coyne's refusal to honor the voucher on the grounds that Mayor Dean Cranmer placed the order without proper legislative authorization. The mayor has claimed all along that he acted, back in August of 1961, on verbal orders from Council. He knew better, or should have, and if Council unwittingly, or wittingly, gave him the "go ahead" signal in the election year when the E. Pershing St. municipal parking lot was being rushed to completion, things were "snafu" from the start.

What's wrong with shipping the meters back to the company that made them? Or would that be illegal?

Solomon never had a problem like this one.

Moment of Truth

For some, the moment of truth about horticulture comes early. For some, it comes late.

For me it comes in the middle of June. It has come again.

The horticultural deck is stacked.

The things I want to grow so I can be proud of them wither in the ground and fade away.

Or they are consumed by bugs.

Or the dogs run roughshod over them and break them off.

Or it is the year it rains too much and drowns them or rains too little and they burn up in a drought.

THE THINGS I want to destroy because I am ashamed of them grow three feet tall and shower down a million seeds to assure a better crop next year. They resist all efforts to discourage them.

Hope springs anew each spring that this will not be so again as I sprinkle seeds and transplant seedlings.

In my mind's eye I see a lawn like a putting green on a championship golf course, shrubbery like idealized plantings in travel folders and flowers like the gardens at Versailles.

But as time wears on and it is mid-June, weeds have outstripped the grass in the lawn, which is turning brown. The shrubbery is misshapen and moth-eaten. The only flowers doing well are multi-flora roses on the hedge, the bloom on the sour grass and buds in thistles.

First Switch

This is the baseball season we intend not to be surprised when managers are switched. We finally have figured it out. The manager of a baseball team is a catalyst. Catalysis is the acceleration of a reaction in physical chemistry produced by a substance known as a "catalyst," which may be recovered practically unchanged at the end of the reaction.

This is why managers come and go. Club owners and front offices keep looking for catalysts who can accelerate a winning reaction. When it happens, the catalyst can be recovered practically unchanged at the end of the reaction. Eventually he will be managing another club somewhere else.

He is available for the next reaction. It all depends on what reaction is desired. In the case of the New York Mets, who are losing twice as often as they win, if something about Casey Stengel caused them to start winning he would have to be replaced because fans of the Mets don't expect their favorite team to win.

Mel McGaha has just replaced Ed Lopat as field manager of the Kansas City Athletics. No comment. One catalyst is being substituted for another. That's why managers come and go. Goodbye Lopat, hello McGaha. Goodbye, McGaha, hello next catalyst.

By Truman Twill

poison ivy, burdock, dandelion, wild lettuce and 23 weeds too hard to classify are rampant.

Zinnias and marigolds that were going to be grown from seed never came up, because they were planted too deep, which is what the lady of the house always claims.

Insects and cut worms have dealt with everything that did come up, and what they didn't destroy the rabbits destroyed.

GRASS IS flourishing in the driveway but not in the side yard. Something is stinging the leaves on the pear trees, but the leaves on the unwanted wild thorn apples look fine.

All uninhibited stuff growing at random in the fields is three times life-size and multiplying like the natives in India, but the precious holly trees haven't grown an inch in five years and the Japanese yews aren't filling out any faster than geisha girls.

A little later, things will turn out better than seemed possible, but in mid-June things always have turned out worse than seemed possible when so many things which seemed possible actually were impossible—if the truth had been faced squarely.

The prospect looks cheaper than 15 cents in Canadian money. This must be what the Mojave Desert looked like just before they colored it tan and started to call it by its right name.

Railroad 'Guerrilla Warfare'

By VICTOR RIESEL

Guerrilla warfare has hit the nation's railroads — and will continue to snarl traffic and commuters. Union leaders have been striking in the early morning hours between 4 and 8 o'clock, pulling out as many as 5,000 men on pre-arranged signals — and they tell me this will continue. As soon as federal court injunctions halt one "wildcat" or official walk-out, other combinations of railroads in other sectors of the nation will be hit.

Victor Riesel

They can put the U. S. Army or the National Guard troops on us, but they won't get us to run the trains," I was told by a spokesman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Cleveland. And that spokesman is an important one. He is a colleague of the elusive — and militant — Charles Luna, the Mr. Labor of the future, who now is the Brotherhood's president and chief strategist.

What do Mr. Luna and the Rail Unions want? Settlement of "local grievances," he tells me.

What are the grievances in this strange industry we take so much for granted and about which the public knows so little?

A KNOWLEDGE of them is vital because they've caused paralyzing strikes or near stoppages on some 15 lines in 25 states in recent weeks.

Among these union complaints, some of which go back to 1956, is, for example, union opposition to one of the railroad's demands that a man injured on the job consult a private physician. The doctor then would be expected to give the full medical history of the injured worker to the road. The union claims this is an invasion of privacy.

Another local grievance involved in the firing of a brakeman who was ordered by the train conductor to sit in the second of two diesel locomotives which were pulling a freight train. The union said the book of rules gave the conductor the right to do this. The company supervisor told the brakeman to sit elsewhere. The brakeman refused. He was fired.

Then there is something called the "extra board." This is a list of men with low seniority from which workers are called in for relief work. The union has claimed that "extra board" men are not called in often enough to earn a living.

THE BROTHERHOOD wants special pay for handling air hoses on trains. It wants more relief men to replace workers who vacation or are off on personal matters.

The Transport Workers Union, whose men have "wildcatted" on the "Pennsy" doesn't want maintenance work shifted from shops in Ohio to ones in Pennsylvania. They walked out because supervisors "badgered the men for better workmanship," according to the union.

Luna's trainmen and other on-train unions say there are hundreds of such grievances. So do the men off the trains in the shops. So they want the grievances settled on a local — railroad by railroad — basis. This would take it out of the hands of what the railroaders call "Two-Eight-Two" — which is not a locomotive but the seven-man board created by Congress last summer when it voted compulsory arbitration in an effort to end the national railroad strike crisis then.

"Two-Eight-Two" was set up by Congress to arbitrate any arguments resulting from the right of the railroad companies both to lay off tens of thousands of firemen and to fix the size of train crews. But "Two-Eight-Two" is about ready to go on strike itself.

THE BOARD makes a decision and the unions apparently accept it. Then the unions suddenly discover grievances in matters over which they say "two-eight-two" has no jurisdiction. So they strike suddenly. The railroads go into court. The judge issues an injunction. The strike ends — and then pops up in another part of the country on other lines.

Obviously the unions, sparked by Luna, want no central arbitration board. They do not want any White House mediation or presidential intervention. They are opposed to national bargaining. They want local bargaining, railroad by railroad. But the industry wants national negotiations.

This is the reverse of the positions held in other fields where the businessmen want local bargaining and such unions as the Steelworkers want national bargaining.

An intimate of President Johnson told this columnist that, "The trouble is just beginning. The whole industry is a jungle. There appears to be no way of stopping this guerrilla warfare!"

Trouble In Paradise

By JOSEPH R. SLEVIN

UNITED NATIONS

The cool relations between the Soviet Union and Romania over the latter's economic drift to the West have reached the stage of vituperation and the verbal blasts are expected to become increasingly heated in the near future.

This estimate of the strained situation comes from a highly reliable East European source, who points out that the position of each side is marked by a feeling of outraged indignation over the lack of understanding of the other.

Although Moscow had been previously annoyed by a show of independence on the part of Bucharest, it was not until a top-level Romanian trade delegation arrived in Washington late last month that the Soviet irritation was couched in strong language.

THE MOSCOW radio, in a Romanian-language broadcast at that time, charged that "the Romanian government is perfidiously trading with the West while it is neglecting to strengthen the economic alliances within the Communist bloc."

The Romanians came back with a defiant response. "Do you dare to accuse us of perfidy," the Bucharest radio stated in a Russian-language broadcast, "When you have such dealings yourself? And what about Czechoslovakia and Poland that trade freely with the West?"

The first intimation that Moscow had a balky satellite on its hands came when Romania refused to accept its allotted role in the Communist bloc's Council for Mutual Economic Assistance — to provide the other members with agricultural and petroleum raw materials. The Romanians had other ideas — namely, to build up their country's industrial power, and with Western help, if necessary.

Assistance from the West was soon forthcoming, when the trade talks in Washington resulted in an agreement for U.S. aid in building a synthetic rubber plant, a rolling steel mill and a fertilizer plant.

This bow at Moscow's esteem was followed in short order by a report from Geneva that the Romanian delegation to the United Nations World Trade Conference had sought closer contacts with the Western-dominated General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

EASTERN EUROPEANS at the U. N. are quick to point out that the Romanian-Soviet differences, unlike Moscow's ideological rift with Peking, are more in the nature of a "family" quarrel.

Nevertheless, one Eastern European asserted, though there is no comparison in degree of seriousness between Moscow's rift with Peking and its quarrel with Bucharest, the Soviet harangues are resented by the Romanians as "unjust."

"They (the Russians) are doing the same things as the Romanians, but giving different labels to it. A U. S. - Soviet deal is called a peace move in Moscow. But a Romanian-Western deal is called an act of perfidy," he said.

Dissenting Justices

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A majority of the Supreme Court of the United States has again overstepped the bounds of judicial self-restraint. This time the court has chosen to ignore the language of the Constitution itself which gives to the states the right to fix their own voting districts for the two houses of each legislature.

David Lawrence

No such usurpation of power by the judicial branch of the government has been recorded before in the whole history of the Republic as is being manifested by the present court. The Supreme Court by its recent decisions has taken upon itself to tell the board of supervisors in a county how it shall tax and appropriate its money. It, moreover, has told the American people, in effect, that there must be no prayer in the schools during school hours.

Now it has undertaken to say that the 50 states of the Union cannot have their legislative houses based upon any form of representation the constitution of the state may proclaim, but must conform to a formula set forth by the Supreme Court of the United States itself.

IF THE FOREGOING observations are considered too critical of the court's decision, any doubts are dispelled by the actual words of the justices who dissented in the reapportionment cases handed down on Monday.

Justice Harlan, for example, declared that the failure of the court to consider the language of the 14th Amendment — on which the court's opinion was based — "cannot be excused or explained by any concept of 'developing' constitutionalism," he added:

"It's meaningless to speak of constitutional 'development' when both the language and history of the controlling provisions of the Constitution are wholly ignored."

Justice Harlan further declared that the court's action "amounts to nothing less than an exercise of the amending power by this court," and said: "For when, in the name of constitutional interpretation, the court adds something to the Constitution that was deliberately excluded from it, the court in reality substitutes its view of what should be so for the amending process."

JUSTICE HARLAN pointed out that the decisions this week "give support to a current mistaken view of the Constitution and the constitutional function of this court." He continued:

"This view, in a nutshell, is that every major social ill in this country can find its cure in some constitutional 'principle' and that this court should 'take the lead' in promoting reform when other branches of government fail to act. 'The Constitution is not a panacea for every blot upon the public welfare, nor should this court, ordained as a judicial body, be thought of as a general haven for reform movements.'"

JUSTICE STEWART, in a dissenting opinion in which he was joined by Justice Clark, declared:

"With all respect, I am convinced these decisions mark a long step backward into that unhappy era when a majority of the members of this court were thought by many to have convinced themselves and each other that the demands of the Constitution were to be measured not by what it says, but by their own notions of wise political theory."

"The rule announced today is at odds with long-established principles of constitutional adjudication under the equal protection clause, and it stifles values of local individuality and initiative vital to the character of the federal union which it was the genius of our Constitution to create."

"What the court has done is to convert a particular political philosophy into a constitutional rule, binding upon each of the 50 states, from Maine to Hawaii, from Alaska to Texas, without regard and without respect for the many individualized and differentiated characteristics of each state, characteristics stemming from each state's distinct history, distinct geography, distinct distribution of population and distinct political heritage."

"My own understanding of the various theories of representative government is that no one theory has ever commanded unanimous assent among political scientists, historians, or others who have considered the problem."

THUS, THREE justices of the Supreme Court criticized their six colleagues for having overstepped the bounds of the Constitution.

What can the people throughout the country who disagree with the court do about its rulings? For one thing, they can urge Congress to pass a law taking from the Supreme Court all jurisdiction in apportionment cases.

An even more effective course would be the passage of a new constitutional amendment reiterating that the states of the Union have a right to apportion legislative districts under their own constitutions.

MISS SHIRLEY McFarland, bride-elect of Richard Adams, was honored at a kitchen show Tuesday night by Miss Beverly Griffith, Miss Roberta Shackelford, and Miss Kathy Adams, who will be attendants at her wedding Saturday in the First Assembly of God Church, at the Adams home on N. Ellsworth Ave.

Sweetheart colors, red and white, were the theme when refreshments were served from a white linen covered buffet with red net overskirt. A low arrangement of red roses — a milk glass container flanked by red candles in white holders centered the table.

Games were enjoyed with prizes awarded to Miss Shirley Patterson, Miss McFarland and Miss Adams.

"The Flag and What It Represents in Our Country" was the theme of a talk by guest speaker, Rev. Russell Mase, pastor of the East Liverpool Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church.

Members of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of East Liverpool were hosts at a luncheon at the Church, and featured in the observance was a flag burning ceremony which destroyed the soiled flag flown over Trinity church.

TWENTY-FIVE MEMBERS of the Florence Nightingale Registered Nurses Association met for a picnic Monday night at Centennial Park, with Mrs. Howard Covert, Mrs. Doris Mackey and Miss Genevieve Simms as hostesses.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise Our church has cut strips of carpet to fit the bottom of the hymn book racks. It's marvelous!

Now no more clunk, clunk during the final, "Amen."

FAITHFUL READER. DEAR FOLKS: Now isn't this a wonderful idea?

We all have little strips of leftover carpeting around the house.

Why not donate it to your church?

Be sweet enough to take along your scissors and a pencil. Measure the holder, turn the carpet over, draw a line the correct size on the back of it, and cut away. . .

I'm sure that any minister would appreciate your donation of time, and the thought behind it.

And another idea just occurred to me: If you have any bit of carpet left, why not put a dab of it in the bottom of your own magazine rack? Not only would it catch the dust (it can be taken out and vacuumed when you vacuum your rug), but would keep the bottom of those magazines from fraying. . .

HELOISE. DEAR HELOISE: Before I do my weekly marketing, I get all the small dishes of leftover vegetables, bits of scallions, celery and tops, and make soup.

I add some canned tomatoes, a bit of thyme and a can of minced clams and have the most delicious clam chowder. . . This way I have storage for vegetables I am going to bring home from the market.

So I suggest cleaning your refrigerator before going to the store and start making soup while cleaning. . .

IRENE. DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away the empty roll-on deodorant bottles. Wash all parts and fill (as directed below); then snap roller assembly in place and put the cap back on, labeling each bottle with a marker.

Fill one bottle with hand lotion to keep at your bedside. Fill another and keep it in the car.

In the nursery these bottles are wonderful for baby oil.

Also mercurochrome or other disinfectants roll over small cuts and abrasions and get the medicine on the desired surface. . . not on the floor or clothes. Neither do the bottles jab the sore spot and the children can use it without help.

But a source familiar with Rowley's views has stated that each agent at the scene "responded in exactly the way they were trained to do," and voiced the view that if there had been twice as many agents in Dallas the sniper could not have been thwarted. Two agents on duty at the time were cited by President Johnson for bravery.

Warren has set June 30 as target date for issuance of the commission's report.

Civil Rights 10 Years Later

By Dr. GEORGE S. BENSON
National Education Assn.

Whatever the Senate does with or to the "civil rights" bill, nearly all Americans of all colors, races and backgrounds are fervently hoping that the next 10 years will be much less filled with violence and tragic behavior than was the decade since May 17, 1954.

On that date was handed down the Supreme Court deci-custodians, secretaries, mechanics and cooks for 1964-65.

Contract renewal for 14 custodians and 14 cooks will be acted on, a matter postponed from the last regular meeting June 9. Executive head Clinton Heacock has drawn up a recommended roster of 28 for re-employment by the board.

Cooks recommended are high school cafeteria supervisor, Mrs. Agnes Ramsey, and her aides, Mrs. Vera Tescher, Mrs. Connie Huseman, Mrs. Kathryn Brunner, Mrs. Mildred Weingart, Mrs. Ruth Ann Stoffer, Mrs. Myrtle Filp, Mrs. Nellie Anderson, Mrs. Annabell Stallsmith, Mrs. Gladys Ritchie, Mrs. Lillie McBride, Mrs. June Beamer and Mrs. Marie Wuthrick.

Custodians recommended for re-employment are Glen J. Maurer, supervisor, Ray Flickinger, John Townsend, Harold Evans, George Ailes, Lester Bollinger, John Yothers, Reno Pelamati, Jack Paine, Frank Weingart, Mrs. Alice Steves, Don Cameron, Emmett Mincks and Archie Bowers.

tions include Benjamin Electric Co. and the Pressed Steel Car Co. He joined the Air Force in 1941 but was transferred to the United States Counter - Intelligence Service.

In 1947 he joined the Eljer Company operation in Salem, progressing through various jobs and titles until reaching his present position as plant manager. He is married and lives at 1496 Buckeye Circle with his wife, Ruth Jane, and his two children, Gayle and Peter.

In accepting Mr. Miller's resignation from the board, Mr. Stephenson commented on his nearly 24 years of faithful service as a director, to which position he was appointed on Sept. 20, 1940. He was formerly manager of the Ohio Edison Co. office.

sion that was viewed by many hopeful persons as the dawn of a new era and by others as the beginning of the end of discrimination.

With a backward look, the discerning person who is informed at all would hardly insist that either of these visions has become reality.

SOME SCATTERED results in desegregation, although rather meager statistically, have been recorded. Forced by court orders, backed by bayonets in a few instances, some 32 of the South's 292 public colleges and universities are reported to have admitted Negro students.

However, 9 out of 10 Negro elementary and high school students in the South attend schools that are segregated. Meanwhile, in the North many communities have experienced patterns of change leading more toward segregation than away from it. Whether we have advanced the nation's total well-being is a difficult question.

State laws already on the books against discrimination have probably not changed the views of many people nor have resulted in uniform treatment in human relations.

LAWS AGAINST disturbing the peace and riots have certainly not prevented that kind of lawlessness. It would therefore seem a vain hope for any of us to suppose that passage of civil rights legislation would bring in the utopia of peace and harmony that we seek.

That the Supreme Court decision of 1954 has failed to bring a uniform paradise of educational opportunity may have disillusioned some people.

We wonder if any law can really ever settle issues so emotionally charged as those related to race. It has been time, those ten years, for reflection upon the moral issues involved and upon whether we are mature enough to seek judicial remedy. These factors of legality and morality could have been tested more adequately if so much tragic violence had not been brought into play.

WHAT NOW OF the "civil rights" legislation pending? At this writing leaders in Congress are saying, perhaps more to reassure voters than themselves, that some form of bill will be passed.

Even if the bill is only advance payment of political tribute in an election year, no one should expect this kind of legislation to do more than remind us that America does have a philosophy on public and civil rights that is made formal by access to the courts. If, with this bill or without it, all Americans could put away strife and disorder (both violent and non-violent) the prospects for the next decade could be very bright indeed.

Agitations, demonstrations, inflammatory speeches, and street disturbances will lead inevitably to destruction of life and property. Bombings and murders are not in the true American spirit of peaceful, orderly observance of law. Mobs on the streets that cannot wait for orderly legal processes are not the answer.

Violating local laws to achieve notoriety or dramatic news play is wrong. While these practices intensify feelings and emotions, they do very little for men's minds. As much as possible, we ought to learn to act through reason, after discussion, or because of persuasion.

AFTER ALL, conformity achieved through use of force and coercive attack is unsound. Men respect law and obey it through reason and understanding, not superior propaganda or political dealing. That men have the right to freedom of association on the basis of individual qualities, likes and dislikes, must be recognized.

Whether these matters involve race, religion, or whatnot, they are determined to a great extent by those directly concerned. The preferences, habits, and feelings of men are not easily changed. Those who expect miracles from a "civil rights" bill may be doomed to disappointment.

BESIDES CONTAINING provisions that may prove to be unconstitutional, the bill is a patch-work of conflicts with existing state and federal law. Its provisions for vast federal control over almost everyone (not just restaurant and hotel owners) are not generally known by the public.

It would take a decade of court testing to find out how to interpret the law.

It is a bill that is not calculated to make the next decade any more peaceful than the violent decade we have just completed.

Garden Hose Can Sometimes Substitute for Paint Brush

A garden hose sometimes can be an effective substitute for a paint brush in giving a fresh look to a house with wood siding.

Wood that appears to need painting often needs nothing more than a cleaning. The quickest and easiest way to accomplish this is by rinsing the siding with water from a hose. Aside from the cleansing action of the water, the pressure from the hose helps to push the dirt from the wood. Must you be warned to doublecheck every window to be certain it is tightly closed?

Dirt of a more stubborn nature may require a gentle washing with a cloth and warm water. If necessary, soap suds or one of the mild detergents or scouring powders can be used. In all cases, the rubbing action should be done with a fairly light touch. A final rinsing with clear water should be given if a soap, detergent or powder is used.

ters telling them where to get help.

When first announced last January, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz hopefully called it "the most important human salvage program in the history of our country."

Administration officials had hoped to assist some 35,000 young men in the first four months.

While conceding some serious problems in the initial stage of the program, the Labor Department isn't giving up.

Spokesmen say the biggest problem is getting in direct contact with youths who have been rejected for physical or educational reasons and convincing them there are federal programs that can help them.

Selective Service officials have held the addresses of rejected youths are confidential and insisted in sending contact letters, rather than letting Labor Department counselors get in touch directly with the youths.

The two agencies are now working on a procedure to get permission of the rejected youths to give their addresses to other federal agencies.

The program was launched after a federal report estimated that one-third of the nation's 18-year-olds couldn't qualify for induction into the armed services.

May Extend to City Councils

Broad Implications Cited In Apportionment Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jubilant over their big victory in the Supreme Court, advocates of the "one man, one vote" theory of government broadened their horizons today.

Their next target: such local government organizations as city councils, county boards of supervisors and even such units as water districts.

The Supreme Court, in a decision spelling great changes in the American governmental structure, ruled Monday that both branches of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Aides in the office of Charles S. Rhyne, noted constitutional lawyer, said today the implications of Monday's rulings are even broader than most people realize.

Rhyne is former president of the American Bar Association and has been a kingpin in the drive on behalf of city residents and suburbanites to gain more voice in state legislatures, most of which are dominated by steadily diminishing numbers of rural residents.

Rhyne's office took the view that the Supreme Court decision points the way to wholesale re-vamping of city councils and other governmental units.

They pointed, for example, to a decision which the Ohio Supreme Court handed down even before the nation's highest court acted.

The Ohio court decreed that Cleveland's City Council must be reapportioned according to population. Cleveland has 33 wards, and there had been complaints that people in some wards were shortchanged in the matter of representation.

Rhyne's aides also said California's highest court had taken action looking toward the reapportionment of the Board of Supervisors in Monterey County, Calif. They foresaw much further litigation of this sort, wherever citizens can make a case that their vote is not worth as much as that of folks in some other part of the county or city.

There was no exact information on how many states must reapportion their state legislatures as a result of Monday's decrees. Estimates ranged from 24 to 40 or more.

The Supreme Court left a little leeway—though perhaps not much—in its guidelines. Some account can be taken of the problem of preserving existing county lines—but there must be substantially equal representation of city, suburban and rural populations.

Much litigation lies ahead, in the case of particular states. The Supreme Court left it to lower federal courts to decide each case on the merits, following which there may be further appeals to the highest bench.

Virginia County Ordered To Reopen Public Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A federal court has given the Prince Edward County Board of Supervisors one week to appropriate funds to reopen and operate public schools.

U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis Wednesday night ordered the supervisors to levy taxes and raise funds to open the schools, closed in 1959 to avoid racial desegregation.

Judge Lewis told the board to act by June 25, one month to the day after the U.S. Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward to reopen the schools.

During an hour-long hearing Wednesday and at preliminary Monday, Judge Lewis offered the supervisors the initiative in reopening the schools. They did not take it. His tough order followed.

Judge Lewis declined to spell out exactly how much money the board should appropriate, as sought by Negro attorneys. He told the supervisors they must open schools substantially equal to those in other rural counties.

The court continued its injunction against the payment of tuition grants for private education in the county as long as the public schools remain closed.

Lewis turned down a request by the Negro attorneys that he order the county to hire a public school faculty and school employees on a nondiscriminatory basis. He said the Supreme Court had not required it.

He said, however, the schools must be operated on a nondiscriminatory basis for the pupils.

A spokesman for the supervisors said in Farmville that he thought the board would meet before the weekend for a briefing by its special counsel, J. Segar Gravatt, and would reach some decision by June 25.

Gravatt on Monday had asked the court what penalties the supervisors might expect if they "find it impossible to comply."

Lewis said Wednesday that prejudgment was improper. "Just let them disobey it," he said. "I'll tell them then what the penalty will be."

The supervisors cut off operating funds for the schools in 1959 after the U.S. District Court ordered Prince Edward to admit Negro pupils.

Since then white pupils have attended private, segregated schools. Negro children were without education until last September when free schools supported by public contributions were opened on a one-year emergency basis.

Ohio Patrolmen Get Pay Boosts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes today ordered emergency pay raises averaging 13 per cent for Ohio highway patrolmen.

The increases, ranging from $60 to $80 a month, for 511 patrolmen will take effect July 1.

Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson, who said 66 men resigned last year and 41 so far this year, added that the increases are expected to amount to about $450,000 a year.

The order also covered pay raises for some employees in the Welfare, Mental Hygiene and Health Departments.

FAR FROM HOME — Lynda Bird Johnson, President Johnson's 20-year-old daughter, poses next to an international signpost which indicates her home town of Johnson City, Texas is 4,016 miles away (fourth marker from top). The Johnson City marker was put up just before Lynda arrived at the spot — on the Kona coast of Hawaii Island — and will be left up to commemorate her visit to the island.

40 In Canton Held In Theft Of Car Parts

CANTON — Thefts of auto parts valued at $12,224, taken since 1961, were cleared up with the filing of charges against 29 men, ages 19 to 26, and 11 juveniles, ages 16 and 17, police here said yesterday.

Detective Capt. Frank Bors Jr. of the Canton police department said the arrests involved 128 theft cases in the city and several in Stark County.

But George Papadopolous, chief deputy for Stark Sheriff W. J. Hine, said he had no information on any county cases being solved.

Capt. Bors said the stolen items were primarily drag racing equipment such as high-speed transmissions. He said the theft ring would steal such items after hearing of someone who was in need of them, then sell them as their own extra parts.

Most of the items were taken from cars on streets or in used car lots during late night or early morning hours, police said. They dubbed the thieves the "Midnight Auto Supply."

BOY BITTEN BY DOG

Mrs. David J. Fortney of 857 N. Ellsworth Ave. reported to police Wednesday that her boy, David Jr., 8, was bitten by a dog owned by Roger Tuel of 501 W. 4th St. at about 10:45 a.m. that day. The dog was tied.

Man Pleads Innocent To Larceny by Trick

LISBON — William Buchholtz of Windham appeared Wednesday afternoon before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp and pleaded not guilty to larceny by trick at the Interstate Truck Stop operated by William G. Jackson.

Judge Sharp set bond at $500, and Buchholtz made bond and was released.

Buchholtz was indicted by the recalled April grand jury and didn't appear at arraignment day Monday because he was out of the state.

Trials for those who pleaded not guilty Monday will be held next Monday. Mary Ellen Lawson, 19, of Youngstown, indicted for theft of cigarettes from Mason's Foodliner in Wellsville, will be the first defendant.

SWEeper KILLS BOY

CLEVELAND (AP)—A street-sweeper ran over and killed 7-year-old Frank Preisig on a west side street Wednesday. Police said the boy fell after turning his bicycle in front of the slow-moving sweeper.

Young Driver Hurt As Car Hits Truck

A 17-year-old E. 6th St. youth received a lacerated lower lip when he was involved in a car-truck mishap on E. State St., 100 feet west of Penn Ave. at 5:05 p.m. Wednesday. He was treated by a physician.

According to police, Charles J. Mosher of 808 E. 6th St. was traveling east on State St. when his vehicle struck the rear of a tractor-trailer truck, also headed east and stopped in a line of traffic.

The truck was operated by Rodney Martz, 33, of Flint, Mich. Mosher was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

HELICOPTER CRASHES

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A helicopter belonging to the Marion (Ohio) Air Service crashed and burned near the Summit-Medina County line, but the two occupants of the craft escaped serious injury.

The pilot, John Spellerberg, 45, of Upper Sandusky, told the Highway Patrol he felt an unusual vibration at 2,000 feet and descended but lost control at about 100 feet. The patrol said Spellerberg and Mrs. Norma Blackburn, 36, also of Upper Sandusky, were returning Wednesday from a fair at nearby Tallmadge, where the helicopter had been demonstrated.

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang — and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car — the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car — Thunderbird — with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

Japanese Fight Quake Fires

Niigata Evacuees Return to Homes

NIIGATA, Japan (AP) — Flames from blazing oil storage tanks were being brought under control in Niigata today. Thousands were returning to homes they fled after Tuesday's devastating earthquake.

Firefighters said they hoped by tonight or Friday to be in control of the inferno the quake set off along the waterfront of the northern Japanese port, center of the domestic petroleum industry.

Ninety of Niigata's 300 big storage tanks were set afire, but by noon today the columns of black smoke were lightening as firetrucks poured foam extinguisher into the flames. Most of the foam was supplied by U.S. forces and was flown from Tokyo.

The people of Niigata, hardened to disaster like most Japanese, began picking up the threads of their lives.

Thousands of uniformed men from the armed services joined local workers in clearing away debris and mending roads.

Tons of relief goods poured in. Donations came from abroad. The king and queen of Malaysia on a state visit to Japan, contributed $8,333.

The first of some 20,000 evacuees began returning to their homes, or to what was left of them. Low-lying areas were still flooded from the tidal wave that poured in from the Sea of Japan after the quake.

The national police reported 1,158 houses destroyed and 13,500 damaged by the quake, another 11,000 were flooded.

Although the quake was the strongest in Japan since the 1923 quake that took 143,000 lives in the Tokyo-Yokohama area, experts attributed the remarkably low loss of life to the fact that the quake hit after lunch, when cooking stoves were off and there were no residential fires.

The casualty toll was 25 dead and 11 missing although the damage was estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars.

The 1923 quake came a few minutes before noon, upsetting charcoal cookers then widely in use. Huge sections of Tokyo and Yokohama were razed, and most of the victims died in the flames.

Jury Awards Woman $2,500 In Mishap Suit

LISBON — A common pleas court jury Wednesday awarded $2,500 to a Lisbon area woman for injuries she suffered in an auto accident March 24, 1962 on Rt. 45, between Salem and Lisbon.

Mary H. Brown of 324 N. Market St. was awarded this amount by a jury which deliberated one and a half hours. She had asked for $100,000 from James H. Howard of the same address. She was a passenger in a car driven by Howard who struck a car turning into Rt. 344.

The trial began Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Slayer of New Yorker Hunted

Woman Rings for Elevator, Finds Husband's Body In It

NEW YORK (AP)—Only minutes after Selma Simpson saw her husband precede her into their apartment building, the self-service elevator returned to the lobby with his slain body.

As the elevator doors opened, disclosing his body, face down, Mrs. Simpson screamed and said: "Oh, my God. Wait a minute. It looks like my husband."

The victim of the macabre murder Wednesday night was Leonard Simpson, 63, a lawyer. Police said he had been stabbed once near the heart with a weapon similar to an ice pick.

Just before the elevator doors opened, Mrs. Simpson and two men who also were waiting for it noticed a tall, gaunt Negro with a mustache, who came down the stairs, waved to them in a friendly way and left the building, located on 90th Street near Broadway.

Police put out an alarm for him. Other tenants said he looked like a derelict.

Mrs. Simpson said she entered the apartment building a few minutes after her husband and found two men waiting for the elevator. It was stopped at the fourth floor, where the Simpsons' apartment is.

They knocked on the shaft door. Finally the elevator started down, paused at the second floor and then reached the lobby.

Police said the victim's wallet, watch, tieclasp and pen were found on his body, along with about $1 in change. The wallet was empty of bills, although Simpson's younger son, Victor, 23, told police his father usually carried about $50.

Indians Sweep Doubleheader Behind Alvis' Homers

Tribe Tied For 4th Now
Opens Series At Los Angeles Next

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Bounce" is one term you have to use when you talk about the 1964 Indians.

After a disastrous week last week, capped by three straight losses to the last-place Kansas City Athletics, the Indians came back with three straight victories over the tough Minnesota Twins.

Max Alvis and Pedro Ramos finished the job against the Twins in Wednesday night's doubleheader. Alvis, who clouted home runs in both games, broke a 2-2 tie with a two-out, ninth-inning homer in the first game for a 3-2 victory.

Ramos shut out the Twins and hit a homer in the nightcap, which the Indians won 5-0. The twin victories moved the Tribe into a tie with Minnesota for fourth place in the American League.

Cleveland came from behind in the last two frames of the opener after Camilo Pascual shut them out on one hit over seven innings. A single by Vic Davalillo in the eighth after Larry Brown doubled and Tito Francona walked spoiled the shutout. Leon Wagner's single, scoring Francona, tied the score.

Alvis' second homer of the evening and his ninth of the season broke a scoreless deadlock in the fourth inning of the nightcap. That was all the margin Ramos needed, but the Tribe added two more in the fifth, aided by Johy Goryl's error.

Wagner's double and a single by rookie Bob Chance gave the Indians another run in the seventh, and Ramos capped the scoring with his homer in the eighth.

The Indians are off today. They open a nine-day road trip Friday in Los Angeles.

Giants Tie for NL Lead, Nip Cincy 3-2; Pirates Triumph

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Things are back to normal in Candlestick Park these days. Willie McCovey is delivering souvenirs to the kids who gather beyond the right-field fence when he swings. Alvin Dark is making the right moves and the Giants are winning ball games. Why things are so normal that Willie Mays is even hitting homers again.

That delightful combination of McCovey and Mays with a dash of Dark added for good measure, lifted San Francisco into a virtual tie for the National League lead Wednesday with a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Of course, things didn't look to good for 8 1-3 innings, but then the wheels of success sometimes grind slowly.

Cincinnati starter Joe Nuxhall had a six-hitter and a 2-1 lead going into the ninth. The veteran left-hander had helped his own cause with a homer in the fifth to balance Mays' 19th homer which came in the first.

Nuxhall got Jim Davenport leading off the ninth but then Jose Pagan rapped a single. That's when Dark made his big move.

He motioned McCovey, the rangy lefty hitter who's been battling a season-long slump, to bat for right-handed Del Crandall against the southpaw pitcher.

That's wrong you say? He's supposed to let the righty batter hit against the left pitcher? Maybe, but who can argue with success? Certainly not the Giant players who mobbed McCovey after Nuxhall's second pitch landed among the youngsters behind that right-field fence.

The victory moved the Giants within seven percentage points of the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies, who ran afoul of Billy Williams and lost to Chicago 9-5. In other NL games, Pittsburgh's Bob Friend won his 11th straight against the New York Mets 3-2. St. Louis nipped Houston 2-1 and Sandy Koufax fired his fourth shutout as Los Angeles blanked Milwaukee 5-0.

McCovey was batting .200 and had just three hits against left-handers this season before tagging Nuxhall. The homer was his 10th.

Almost as welcome as McCovey's blast was the one Mays unloaded in the first inning. The Say-hey Kid had been held homerless for 19 games before connecting.

Williams smashed two homers and knocked in five runs as the Cubs cut the Phillies down. He also had a triple and raised his league-leading batting average to .382.

Reliever Jack Baldshun wild pitched Chicago's lead run across in the seventh after the Phillies had blown an early lead.

Friend, who has never lost to the Mets, received shoddy fielding support from the Pirates, but survived with a strong eighth-inning. The Pirates tagged loser Tracy Stallard for all their runs in the first inning with Willie Stargell's ninth homer accounting for two of them.

Ray Washburn gave up hits to the first two Houston batters he faced and then held the Colts hitless into the eighth inning before tiring. Before it was over Manager Johnny Keane needed three more pitchers to lock up the Cardinal victory.

Washburn's double in the eighth started the winning rally for St. Louis. Ken Boyer's 11th homer accounted for the other Cardinal run.

Koufax had a no-hitter for 4 1-3 innings before Mike de la Hoz dropped a single off Maury Wills' glove. The Braves added two more hits but never threatened and the Dodger lefty coasted to his ninth victory.

Rookie Derrell Griffith homered to lead an 11-hit Dodger attack.

Sekely Nips Eljer 4-3

Independent Hose Rallies To Trim Stark's Colonial Attic

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh inning gave Independent Hose Company a 7-4 victory over Stark's Colonial Attic in junior baseball Class H action at Buckeye Field Wednesday.

Dairy Isle scored in every inning as it knocked off Quaker Manufacturing 23-8, and Jaycees handed Cherry Hill its seventh straight loss 14-3 at Kelley Field.

Three singles in a row scored Bob Bentley in the bottom of the seventh as Sekely nipped Mullins 4-3, and Eljer clipped Farmer's Bank 18-6 in Class F competition at Memorial Park.

National Cleaners pulled a mild upset as it edged Knights of Columbus 8-7, while Hunt's Industrial Union defeated Lion's Club 12-3 in Class G tilts.

Ed Galchick led off the seventh inning for Independent Hose with a triple. After a force out, he came racing home on an error. A hit batter and another error brought in two more markers.

It was the seventh win in a row for Independent Hose. Niles Kymett collected three singles, and Galchick had a triple and single to spark the winners' attack.

Stark's (4-3) led at the end of the fourth inning by two runs, and tied the contest 4-4 in the Mike Bezeredi led the losers with two hits apiece.

Dairy Isle tallied five runs in the first, five in the third and six in the sixth. Bob Houser paced the winners (4-3) with a double and two singles. Robin Bailey collected two singles.

Only batter on the Quaker Manufacturing team (3-4) to get a hit was Dwane Brink who singled in the three-run fourth frame.

Jaycees, leading 4-2, broke the game wide open in the fifth with a 10-run outburst. Mike Cosgrove socked a home run, two doubles and a single, and scored four times for the winners (4-3).

Dan Chamberlain, who tallied three markers, belted a triple and two singles, and Kevin Murnane hit a double and single.

Dick Jackson and John Mehno had two hits apiece for Cherry Hill (0-7).

With the score tied, Bob Bentley led off the seventh inning for Sekely with a single. John Minarcik and Dan Papi followed with back-to-back singles to send Bentley racing home with the winning run.

Down 3-0, Mullins (3-2) tied the score in the top of the seventh without even getting a hit. Two walks, and an error brought in the runs.

Mike Palmer, the winning pitcher, pitched for 6 2-3 innings. He struck out 13 and walked four. Bentley came on in relief for Sekely (5-0) in the seventh with one out. He struck out the next batters.

Jack Shoff, Minarcik and Bentley each had two hits to pace the winners.

Eljer scored four markers in the first inning, with Rick Royce's triple the key hit, and then coasted to its second win in five starts.

Farb Tinsley, Denny Heim, Bill Smith, Doug Culler, and David Heim paced the winners with two hits apiece.

Eljer rallied for four runs in the seventh. Larry Davis, Larry Sabotka and Tony Pucci hit consecutive singles to spark the rally for the losers (2-3).

Behind 7-2, National Cleaners (3-4) came up with six runs in the sixth on a double by Fred Saftred, and singles by Tim Smith, Dave Shasteen, Bill Silvers and Dale Cody.

Jeff Martin, the losing pitcher, had given up only a pair of hits Shasteen until the sixth. John Lantz collected three hits, and Rick Alexander, Don Russell and Martin had two apiece for the Knights who dropped their second game in seven tries.

Jeff Zimmerman and Chuck Leaf each had a pair of hits as Hunt's rolled to its fifth win in seven starts.

Rich Cranmer and Dennis Baker paced Lion's Club (2-5) with two hits apiece.

Salem Legion Blanks Lisbon Squad 8-0

Wayne Washington socked a triple and scored on an error in the first inning, and the Salem America Legion baseball team went on to shut out Lisbon 8-0 at Centennial Park Wednesday.

Don Kendrick and Hilt Moffett combined their pitching talents to hold the losers to two hits.

Saiem, leading 3-0, iced the game with three runs in the fifth on three singles and a triple by George Begalla.

Washington had two other hits. Dick Barrett, Ron Parlon-tieri and Jim Morrison collected two hits apiece for the winners.

It was the third victory in four starts for Salem.

Lynn Leggett and John Kemats had the only hits for the losers.

Twins' Big Bats Silenced in 2 Losses; Orioles Dump Chicago

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam Mele probably wonders where the wallop went.

The Minnesota Twins' manager watched his wrecking crew, home run scourge of the major leagues with 93 circuits, get fenced in by Cleveland pitching for 18 innings Wednesday night as the Indians swept a doubleheader, 3-2 and 5-0.

Pedro Ramos, a former Twin, didn't help Mele's disposition. Pistol Pete, whose gopher ball tendencies prompted his departure from Minnesota two years ago, blanked his old mates on seven hits and belted one of two Cleveland homers in the nightcap.

The defeats dropped Minnesota into fifth place, one percentage point behind the Indians, in the American League pennant race.

The Baltimore Orioles took the league lead by one game over Chicago when they defeated the White Sox 6-1 behind rookie sensation Wally Bunker. New York fell 1 1/2 games off the pace, dropping a 4-3 decision to Boston in 12 innings.

The Detroit Tigers nipped Kansas City 3-2 on Dick McAuliffe's run-scoring single in the 10th inning and the Los Angeles outlasted Washington 5-3.

Minnesota managed two home runs—solo shots by Rich Rollins and Frank Kostro Tuesday—while losing three straight to the Indians.

Power failure in Wednesday's twilight opener negated a brilliant pitching performance by Camilo Pascual, who carried a one-hit shutout into the eighth inning. Larry Brown's double, a walk and singles by Vic Davalillo and Leon Wagner pulled the Indians into a 2-2 tie.

Alvis' eighth homer, with two out in the ninth, made Pascual a loser for the third time in 12 decisions.

Alvis connected again in the fourth inning of the afterpiece. Ramos gave up a hit in each of the first six innings, and Woodie Held made a spectacular grab of Zoilo Versalles' home run bid with two on in the seventh. It was the Twins' lone long-long ball gesture of evening.

The Indians scored a pair of runs in the fifth and one in the seventh before Ramos completed the attack with his second homer of the season.

Bunker, pitching on the 189th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill in Boston during the American Revolution, held Chicago to six hits and picked up his seventh victory. The 19-year-old right-hander was abetted by dirt shipped in from Bunker Hill and sprinkled on the mound, and by Jackie Brandt and Sam Bowens, who homered.

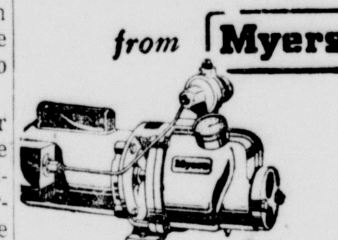

Russ Nixon, pinch hitting for relief ace Dick Rada'z in the 12th inning, singled home Boston's winning run off Ralph Terry. The Yankees had sent the game into overtime with an unearned run in the ninth.

McAuliffe, who had homered previously in the Tigers-Athletics game, singled a Kansas City reliever John Wyatt with two out in the 10th, sending Bill Bruton home with the winning run. The A's lost a 2-1 lead in the eighth when pinch hitter Jake Wood tripled and scored on Jerry Lumpe's single. The defeat snapped Kansas City's five-game winning streak.

Los Angeles scored two runs on sacrifice flies and another on a squeeze bunt to conclude their first winning road trip of the season on a bright note. Bo Belinsky, the winner, and relievers Bob Lee and Bob Dilliba checked the Senators after Don Lock's two-run homer in the third inning.

Missouri Faces Minnesota For NCAA Baseball Title

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Missouri, with the nation's best collegiate pitching staff, matches its No. 3 man, left-hander Jack Stroud, against Minnesota's ace, right-hander Joe Pollack, for the NCAA baseball championship tonight.

It looks like a toss-up. Even at third best, Stroud's 1.45 earned run average and 9-1 record compares favorably with Pollack, 10-2 and 1.82. Keith Weber, Missouri's No. 1 man, will be ready for relief.

"Don't forget, two of Minnesota's best hitters, Dave Hoffman and Bill Davis, are left-handed batters," said Hi Simmons, Missouri coach.

Missouri used its No. 2 man, sophomore Dennis Musgraves, to eliminate Maine's giant killers Wednesday night, 2-1. Maine had knocked Arizona State and Southern California out of the tournament.

Musgraves gave just two hits, both in the sixth when the tough Yankee Conference champs scored an unearned run.

He didn't walk a man, permitted only two balls out of the infield, retired the first 15 men and the last 10 in succession.

This is Minnesota's third trip to the college world series. Dick Siebert's club won the crown in both its other trips, the election years of 1956 and 1960.

The 58-year-old Simmons, winner of 10 Big Eight crowns in his 25 years as coach, is making his fourth trip into the finals in six NCAA tournaments. Missouri won it in 1954, finished second in 1952 and 1958.

Missouri beat Minnesota 4-1 Monday night.

Junior Open Continues At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — This morning began early for scores of young golfers who faced 36 holes of match play today in the sixth Mid-America Junior Open golf tournament.

The youths gathered on the first tee of the Possum Run Golf Club course at 5 a.m. for the second round of the one-loss-and-out event. The third round was to be played in the afternoon.

Defending champion Jim Short of Toronto, Ont., defeated John DeMaime of Akron, 6 and 5, in Wednesday's first match play round by shooting a one-over-par 36 on the front nine and paring the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th holes.

Par is 71 over the 6,258-yard route.

DeMaime and the other losers in Wednesday's round were playing again today, in a separate flight, but the losers in the other flights Wednesday were eliminated. Starting with today's matches, however, everyone played on a single-elimination basis.

Among Wednesday's upsets was the over-all low medalist, Tim Rourke of Westlake, who fell, 5 and 4, to 1963 State Junior Tournament champion John Cowan of Urbana.

The co-medalist, Jim Baske of Benton Harbor, Mich., was more fortunate, winning a 3 and 2 victory from Don Oswalt of Mansfield.

In a couple of other upsets, last year's co-medalist, Bill Heston of Hebron, lost to Dave Anderson of Wooster, 3 and 2, and last year's tournament runner-up, Gary Artz of Cuyahoga Falls, was beaten by Tom Norris of Findlay, 2-up.

The tournament, sponsored by the Mansfield News-Journal, runs through Saturday. Two more 18-hole matches are scheduled Friday before Saturday's final.

WINS 'UNCLE TOM' SUIT

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Ninth District Court of Appeals, ruling in an appeal from a libel award, agreed with a common pleas court ruling that the term "Uncle Tom" is insulting to Negroes.

The opinion Wednesday upheld a $32,000 award won by Mrs. Bertha Moore, Akron Negro leader, against the Cleveland Call & Post, a weekly newspaper published by William O. Walker, a member of Gov. James A. Rhodes' cabinet. Mrs. Moore had sued the Call & Post for publishing what she called a false report that former Gov. Michael V. Disalle had referred to her as an "Uncle Tom."

BULLY BOY — Jerry Cotton of Saginaw, Tex., has turned quite a trick breaking this Brahmas bull to the saddle. These bovines are usually as skittish as a ticklish wildcat, but Cotton has ridden Bobo 1,600 miles to date. Here he pauses for a dip in the ocean at Asbury Park, N.J., en route to the New York World's Fair.

Salem Golfer Wins At Valley Course

Diane Scullion of Salem fired a 47 to take low gross honors in the weekly tournament at Valley Golf Course in Columbiana Wednesday.

Donna Snoke of Columbiana carded the low net 21.

Other Columbiana winners included Garnet Maurer, closest to the pin on No. 2 hole; Roberts

Hawkins, longest drive off No. 5 tee; Helen Bortner, longest putt No. 9 hole; Helen Coughlin, low putts even holes; and Louise Metz, low putts odd holes.

Peggy Ferrall and Jane Eddy tied for the most 8s during the nine-hole event.

Audre Sutherin of Youngstown and Dorothy Murphy of Columbiana tied for low putts 15.

Player Has Dream He Wins Open; Event Starts Today

By JIM BECKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Like Hamlet, Gary Player dresses all in black, and has dreams. Player dreams about golf.

If one of his dreams had only lasted a little longer, the world's best golfer would have been saved a lot of nightmares at the U.S. Open this weekend. And heartaches. And shocks.

But Gary woke up too soon.

Or, as W. Shakespeare had his Hamlet say:

"To sleep, no more. And via sleep to end the heartache. The heartache and the thousand natural shocks that flesh is heir to."

Player doesn't talk quite like that. But he had a dream that he won the Open, the only major golf title that he has never won. There was just one trouble—he woke up before he found out whether he won it this year or another one.

"I know my name is written on the cup," Player said, as the field of 150 set out today over the Congressional Country Club course in pursuit of this most important golf title of all.

"I have seen it," Player said. "I have dreamed it. But I don't know what year."

So the stars of golf will battle through Saturday—18 holes today and Friday and 36 holes on the pressure-packed final day—to see if Player's dream comes true this year.

In Shakespeare's phrases, there are plenty of heartaches in store.

Congressional is listed at par 70, but it is the longest course ever used for the Open, 7,063 yards.

That means that the two big belters of golf, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, share the role of favorite, and only five or six other players are seriously considered as contenders.

Player, once rated a member of golf's Big Three and now struggling to rejoin the group, is one of them. Champaigne Tony Lema, winner of the last two tour tournaments and the fellow who would like to take the Player's old spot at the top, is another.

The others would include defenders Julius Boros, sharp-putting Billy Casper, and old Sam Snead, at 52 playing in his 24th consecutive Open.

Snead is the sentimental favorite in the tournament he has never won. But that won't help him much when Saturday comes with 36 holes in the Open pressure cooker.

Nobody expects par to take a beating.

"We won't score well here," Player said. "There won't be 20 rounds below 70."

"The winner might get under 280, say 279. It's possible if the weather stays nice."

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: My wife has been bugging me for the last year to let her dye my hair black. Marge used to be a beautician. According to her, I'd look at least 10 years younger, which would help me in business because the younger men get the promotions.

I'm 46 and don't mind the gray in my hair at all. Furthermore, I'd be awfully self-conscious about suddenly turning up with coal black hair because all the people I work with know my hair has been gray for years.

You are a pretty sensible dame and I'd like to hear your opinion. A yes or a no?—SILVER THREADS.

Dear Threads: Some men dye for dear old youth's sake and only their barbers know for sure. Speaking strictly for myself, I like gray in a man's hair.

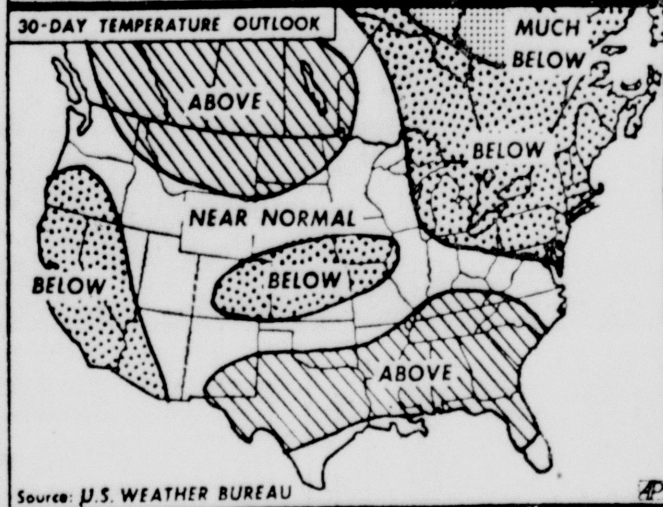

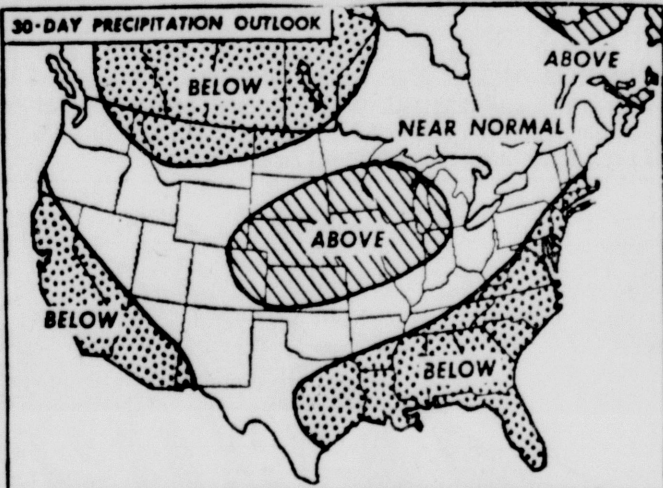

It's obvious that you'd feel self-conscious turning up all of a sudden with coal black hair, so tell your wife its-nay.

Minority of One

Dear Readers: Do you recall the letter several days ago from the woman who complained vehemently because her husband's ex-wife sent him several pairs of shorts and undershirts for Christmas?

The gal blew her top and insisted that her husband return the shorts and undershirts because it was far too intimate a gift under the circumstances. I told the wife to forget it—that it was not worth fighting about for six months, and that although the gift may not have been in the best taste, it was certainly practical.

I'd like you to know, folks, that nearly 4,000 readers from coast to coast, plus Alaska, Honolulu and Puerto Rico wrote to say they did NOT agree with me. My position remains unchanged but it may please you to know that I am a lonely minority.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR 30 DAYS — These maps, based on those released by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington, show the precipitation and temperature outlook for the next 30 days.

Feels Defeated

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 14 and I feel that life is just about over. If there was a Foreign Legion for girls I'd join up.

Three weeks ago the dentist took the braces off my teeth. I wore them for almost four years. You can't imagine how I dreamed of the day when those horrible things would come off. To me it was like the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty or the preview of Cleopatra. I thought everyone would notice—especially the boys.

I counted on this event to change my whole life. Well, nothing happened. Absolutely nobody mentioned it.

I'm so disappointed I don't know what to do. Can you give me some help please.—BOT-TOM OF THE WORLD.

Dear World: You've just learned, first hand, a lesson I've been trying to hammer home for years. It is as follows: Good looks are not the key to popularity.

The girl who is interesting, fun to be with, and can make a boy feel comfortable is going to be sought out—yes—even if she does have a smile like a bird cage. Look around, Tootsie, and you'll see plenty of evidence that I'm right. Go to work on the things that count and watch your life shape up.

Double-Talk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you really mean something, it's perfectly alright to think it—but don't say it.

In most cases, say just the opposite.

That is the only safe and sane rule for polite conversation. It is also the whole art of double-talk, skill in the use of which can advance you in the worlds of society and business and win you a reputation for warm sincerity.

Here are a few more useful examples:

"You're the only one I know who gave up smoking and didn't gain weight." When a bucket is already full of lard, how can you put anymore in?

"Senaor, I don't know where we'd be without men like you, selflessly dedicated to the public interest." We'd be better off.

"For once, let's pick a candidate we can all take pride in." For once, let's pick one who can get elected.

"I just adore backyard cook-outs. And now that I've seen how you broil your steaks—" I think I'll have some of that yummy charcoal instead.

"There isn't a single gray hair in your head, Ed. How do you keep it that color?" It looks like you use brown shoe polish on one temple, and black on the other.

"The thing I like about Grace is how she always says things in such an amusing way." Half a wit is always funnier than none.

"Oh, what a perfectly darling, darling, darling baby!"—Ugh—this one ought to set back parenthood half a century.

"Mind you, George, I'm not saying you're not worth more money to the firm." What I'm telling you, George, is that you are not going to get any more, now or later.

"According to the boss, young Abernathy looks like a real comer." So let's protect ourselves and gang up on him before the situation gets out of hand.

"Alice, your husband must be a real doll to surprise you on your anniversary with such a stunning mink stole." So the gossip must be true — the old fool is cheating on her.

"Those sunglasses make you look like a movie star, Rose-marie." But they don't hide those big dark bags under your eyes, baby. How late were you out last night?

"Since you took that health course, Ronald, you've looked like a million dollars." — what are you going to do to improve that 10-cent mind?

So They Say

Modern weapons make it clear that the penalties for lapses of vigilance and misuse of power that have marred history are now prohibitive.

—Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff.

TV-Radio Today

The conversation turned to computers—how they cough out a vote estimate before a tardy electorate has cast its final ballots, how they seem to dehumanize an election report, how they take the fun out of that most suspenseful of TV events, the report of the presidential vote. Bill Leonard, executive producer of the CBS News Election Unit, rose to his feet and paced the office like an irate polar bear.

"Computers!" he snorted. "A computer is a machine, a most delicate and extraordinary machine. Do you know how many computers we'll have at our service on Election Night? Nine thousand! Telephones are computers, earphones are computers, every bit of electronic equipment and every automobile is a computer!"

HE PICKED UP an electric clock and banged the desk with it. "We'll have some of these computers out there, too. Clocks. You need computers to communicate, take pictures, amplify sound, add numbers."

"There's so much nonsense being said about computers. Look, if you had a great memory, if you could store in your mind the total vote in every precinct in the last two elections and on an instant could bring it forth, I'd say, 'Brother, how much money do you make?' Because I want to hire you for CBS News."

"People say computers have taken the fun out of elections. Have they? Probably. The railroad took the fun out of the covered wagon, too. The airplane took the fun out of the railroad. Jets have taken the fun out of the old DC3. And I don't know of anyone who traveled to the Oregon primary by prairie schooner."

"HOW CAN YOU use the word 'fun' when we'll surely get complaints from all over the country because we've been on too long and the TV viewers could have been watching 'The Nurses,' instead?"

"Maybe with our computers we will eventually reduce a 10-hour show to two hours. Is that awful? We'll get fewer complaints."

"Election Night is an illusion, anyway. It's an illusion to say that as the polls close, the election race is now starting. Not at all! It's finished. Only the counting has started. Whatever 'race' is involved is in the mechanics of the count."

Rockefeller never was in the lead in California; that was an illusion. God knew, of course. And what we're trying to develop is the same picture that God sees. I don't care if it takes the fun out of the elections. We're not in the entertainment business, anyway.

FINAL SAY — Robert B. Meyner, former governor of New Jersey, has been named administrator of the cigarette Advertising Code. In this position, he will have final authority in determining whether advertising complies with code standards.

"Suppose for a moment we did decide to go back to the long, slow, suspenseful count of the horse and buggy days of TV. Here I am at station KOO at 10 o'clock reporting the count of two precincts; you at KYY are reporting whole counties and states. Where do you think the viewer will turn his dial? Will he go for the fun or for the hard news?"

"Competition is what brought about the fast vote count. And I don't think you can very safely knock the idea of competition. Newspapers were built on it."

"THIS YEAR, as everybody knows, the three networks, the AP and the UPI will join in pooling the returns on Election Night. That's swell. The figures on all the boards will be the same. They'll be more accurate, faster, and they'll save us all a lot of money."

"But I worry about it. I'm after that. There's a danger that after that. There's a danger that he system won't improve with each election because there won't be the competitive situation to prod it along. You don't march forward without pressure. And what we're doing is letting out the pressure."

The conversation turned to politicking and Bill Leonard rubbed his hands together and grinned. It was the gesture of a man who couldn't wait for the pressure and the fun to begin — at the San Francisco Cow Palace, at Atlantic City and finally on Nov. 3, when the big countdown begins.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions, Answers

Q—My son recently had scarlet fever. No one would come near our home for fear they would get it. In what stage can a person transmit this disease to others? How long does the contagious stage last?

A—Scarlet fever can be transmitted during the period three or four days before the onset of the fever and for about a week after the onset. Prompt treatment with penicillin shortens this period.

but unless the antibiotic treatment is continued for 10 days, the victim may become a carrier. Because the disease is so easily controlled with penicillin, quarantine is usually not required unless an epidemic develops.

Q—What causes a person to have a sore mouth and tongue? I read that anemia could cause it but I have had blood counts and am not anemic.

A—The commonest cause of sore mouth and tongue is taking food that is too hot. It may also be caused by eating raw pineapple, by smoking, and by trench mouth and other infections. When the cause is found the proper treatment can be prescribed.

Q—If a person recovers from rabbit fever, is he likely to have any after effects in later years? If so, what?

A—Tularemia or rabbit fever is an acute infection. Inadequate treatment is sometimes followed within a week or two by a relapse, but aftereffects in later years are rare. One attack usually confers permanent immunity.

Q—I am an albino. I have had nearsighted astigmatism since birth. Doctors tell me nothing can be done to improve my vision. I have tried glasses but they do not help. What causes

THE UNEMPLOYED — A fairly constant ratio between the employed and unemployed in the United States over the past four years is noted on this Newschart. According to the National Industrial Conference Board, employment hit a record 70.6 million in April, while about 4 million were unemployed.

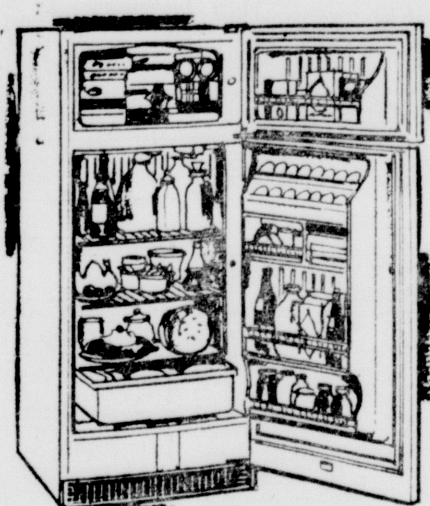

albinism? What can be done to improve my vision? Is this condition likely to be passed on to future generations?

A—Yours is a recessive hereditary condition that is more common in men than in women. It is passed only if there is some albinism on both sides of the family. Thus it may skip a generation only to reappear in the grandchildren. It is characterized by a lack of pigment throughout the body. For this reason the albino becomes severely sunburned on slight ex-posure to the sun and will never acquire a tan.

Because the inside of the eyeball lacks the usual protective pigment, even normal daylight makes the albino very uncomfortable. His vision is often poor because of astigmatism and other errors of refraction but these could be corrected were it not for poor development of the central portion of the retina. For this there is no treatment.
